"Synopsis The Hook, a prominent ridge on the Korean Peninsula, saw more blood spilt than any other feature in that grisly and intense war. So much so that it was known as 'the bloody Hook'. The two costliest battles are told in detail in this military classic. Both involved British infantry battalions of 29 Commonwealth Brigade. In November 1952, The Black Watch, saw off a major Chinese attack. In May 1953 it was the turn of the 1st Battalion, The Duke of Wellington's Regiment to face what must have seemed overwhelming odds. Along a 1,000 yard front the greatest concentration of artillery fire since the Great War was brought to bear on Chinese human wave' attacks. In the morning the Dukes still held the ground despite heavy casualties. This feat of arms, achieved by a unit made up mainly of young National Servicemen from Yorkshire, ranks away the finest in the long and glorious history of the British Army. Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende The author, now deceased, had 14 other published Twentieth Century military history works to his credit."
