Handbook for The Norton 16H 490cc S.V. This handbook is aimed at the capabilities of the average owner and is intended to provide the owner with general details of the motorcycle. Technical information and instructions necessary to carry out maintenance on the engine and cycle parts. The model 16 was first produced in 1911, and with various modifications, kept in production until 1954. Model 16 is the indication for a motorcycle with single cylinder, 490cc displacement, side valve configuration. The bore and stroke of the 490 cc Norton engines was 79 x 100, from 1911 up to 1954!

The 490cc model 18 retained the traditional norton engine dimensions of 79 x 100mm but like the other singles in the range changed visibly with the magneto moving from in front of the engine with its vintage style horizontal drive case to behind the engine together with the dynamo
