"Pressestimmen 'After reading this book one feels that the Arcadian Library has opened itself up to the historian of the book and one longs to book a flight to London right away and visit this marvelous collection. The authors have succeeded in raising an appetite for further investigation into the collection -- and this must have been the original purpose of the book.' --Quarendo'After reading this book one feels that the Arcadian Library has opened itself up to the historian of the book and one longs to book a flight to London right away and visit this marvelous collection. The authors have succeeded in raising an appetite for further investigation into the collection--and this must have been the original purpose of the book.'--Quarendo Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Giles Mandelbrote was appointed Librarian and Archivist of Lambeth Palace Library in 2010, after working for some years at the British Library. Among his publications are Out of Print & Into Profit: A History of the Rare and Secondhand Book Trade in Britain in the 20th Century (2006), as well as the second volume (1640-1850) of The Cambridge History of Libraries in Britain and Ireland (2006), edited jointly with K.A. Manley. More recently he contributed to and edited (with Barry Taylor) Libraries within the Library: The Origins of the British Library's Printed Collections (2009). He is an honorary Senior Research Fellow of King's College, London, and one of the convenors of the annual London conference on book trade history. At present his research is mainly concerned with the book trade in early modern Europe and with book ownership and collecting in seventeenth- and early eighteenth-century England. Dr. Willem de Bruijn is a Research Associate at The Arcadian Library, London. He studied architecture in the Netherlands and in 2010 obtained a doctorate in History and Theory of Architecture from The Bartlett School of Architecture, UCL. His research focuses on the role of the book in architecture, where it has always been both a vehicle for the dissemination of ideas and an object of experimentation--graphic, material and spatial. De Bruijn has published a number of articles relating to his research and is currently working on a book that looks at the typographic ornamentation in Palladio's Quattro libri dell'architettura. He also practices bookbinding."
